

March 2020 Newsletter

Happy Spring!

After what's been a rather long Winter, a lot of things required cleaning up and modified. The papercraft items we had up on Etsy are being migrated to the Wintermoon Curios Shoppe website, and should be available for purchase by April 1st.

Having to rewrite the website has taken quite a bit of time, and has deeply cut into my product planning and creation, however, it has been extremely helpful in getting me to focus on the new subscription classes and education sections.

This modification process has also helped me dig my roots deep into what is truly needed and what isn't. I've also had to work on getting the Wintermoon Curios website up to date, as well as working on the Hex webshow. Oh my, so much to do! So many things are in the works, and we're all very excited.

Since this is our first newsletter, I don't want to spend an overabundance of time on updates and echos of things I've already stated directly on the website in the initial descriptions and goings-on, but I do want to say thank you so much for being here, through the transitions, through the confusion, & through the decades.
